

March 28, 2011

My husband and I adopted a Norwegian Elkhound puppy in 1994. (Please note, this puppy was not adopted from Dr. Price). Sadly, this puppy was the product of a backyard breeder, who could not foresee the heartache which would ensue, by not following ethical standards of dog breeding.

Our Elkie was deeply loved, and we did everything we could for 14 years to make sure her life was full and comfortable. Unfortunately, these years were filled with heartache, due to complicated health issues, and the resulting financial commitments were tremendous.

Determined not to make the same mistake twice, I found Dr. Prices' website, and saved it in my computer favorites. After we said "goodbye" to our beloved Katie, I checked the Jandal website, hoping a puppy picture would cheer me up. To my surprise, Dr. Price was selling two adult females!! I e-mailed Dr. Price, and was elated with her honest answers, and direct approach.

I completely understood why she would require references and personal histories, prior to placing a dog in our home. I would never make another canine commitment with someone who did not require this vital information.

Luckily, my husband and I passed the adoption requirements set by Dr. Price, and Jandals Monkey Business aka "Marilyn" joined our family in March 2009.

My husband and I are thrilled with our adoption of Marilyn, and our association with Dr. Price. Our Elkie is calm, healthy, cheerful, and loves to meet people. She is a joy to my family and my neighbors, as well.

I would highly recommend choosing this breeder for your next canine companion.

If you have any questions or concerns, I would be happy to chat with you.

Amy Adkison

my_adkison@yahoo.com